DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 13, 14, and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Nanami (6,190,221). Note an inlet duct 66, throttle body 68, blow-by gas ventilation system 85 comprising an inlet, near 86, and an outlet, near 95, and an oil separation chamber 91 in communication with the ventilation passage and disposed intermediate the inlet and the outlet.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 15-18, and 20 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 24-31 are allowed. The prior art fails to show the outlet communicating with the intake passage both upstream of the throttle and downstream of the upstream end of the inlet duct, as cited in claim 24.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
